Red Creek Wildlife Center

Because Everything Deserves
a Second Chance

Our Philosophy

We believe that every life, no matter how small or common, is precious and deserves a chance at life.

Taking in one to two thousand wild animals annually, from the tiniest hummingbird, to the largest eagle, from chipmunks to deer, Red Creek has been giving wildlife a second chance for over 20 years.

We believe that education is an important part of saving our wildlife, the environment and the planet for future generations.

Each year, tens of thousands of students enjoy a positive wildlife experience through Red Creek's LIVE RAPTOR programs and assemblies.

We believe wildlife rehabilitation is a valuable service that should be available to everyone.

Red Creek is helping others become wildlife rehabilitators through classes, seminars and online training, expanding this serve to new areas in Pennsylvania and nationally.

By supporting Red Creek, you are contributing toward healthier wildlife, a better environment and toward your community as a whole.

Partner With Us

The Reading & Northern Railroad Company, located in Port Clinton, PA, covers one-half of Red Creek's operating expenses annually, and they have done so for the past six years.

Why do they support us? Because they know that Red Creek will be there when an animal emergency happens!

Whether it is an injured deer on the track or a foundling owl on the wayside, Red Creek has been available to help, 365 days a year.

They also know that the passion and dedication our founder, Peggy Hentz, brought to the organization, is still the driving force today.

And they know that their investment is going toward our missions. Red Creek's thrifty and responsible budget ensures that 85% of funds go directly toward our missions, using only a small portion for necessary organizational costs.

Protecting Our Families and Community Since 1991

It's obvious that wildlife rehabilitation helps animals, but did you know it protects people as well?

By providing a safe and humane service that helps a wild animal foundling in need, a family's exposure to that animal is greatly reduced.

Through our services, our loved ones, especially our children and pets are protected from dangerous, possibly FATAL INJURY, DISEASE AND PARASITES.

Red Creek Wildlife Center relies solely on YOUR generous contributions to meet the ever growing need for our services.
